of the Transfiguration—the Little Church Around the Corner—Twenty-nighth Street and Fifth avenue, at 12 o'clock Saturday. Mrs. Hancock was born in St. Louis Dec.

Mrs. Hancock was born in St. Louis Dec. 12, 1831. She married General, then Heutenant Hancock, while he was stationed at the initiary post twelve miles below the city. At the teraking out of the civil war her instand brought her kast and established her in a home at Washington, he hinself grand at once to the front. She became the confidential irlend of Freshedent Lincoln and remotered great assistance to petitioners who had grevances to adjust.

When Gen. Hancock was put in command of the Division of the Altantic, with hear quarters at Governor's Island, in 1879 Mrs. Hancock was very much pleased and her residence there was a happy one. She entertained the highest ambitions for her neshand, and when he was made the nomines of the Democratle party for the Presidency in 1880 She was highly gratified and felt confident of his success.

The defeat was a hard blow to both herself and the techeral, on whom the strain of the emparing so plainly told that his life was of short duration.

MLLE. NIKITA WILL NOT SING.

She Refuses to Appear in a Concert Hall at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 21.-Mile. Nikita, famous singer, has applied for an injunction restraining the Chicago Trocadero from using her name as an attraction, and declares that she will not fire from spreading, and, by tearing traction, and declares that she will not sing in the place, as by doing so she would put herself on a level with concert-hall and variety singers.

She claims that it was represented to her by Dr. Zeigfeld, of Chicago, that she was to sing in grand opera only, and she now finds that it is a beer hall.
